Dual Credit Options

Running Start

Running Start allows 11th and 12th grade students to take college courses at Washington's 34 community and technical colleges. Students earn both high school and college credits for these courses. Running Start students and their families do not pay tuition for up to 15 college credits, based on combined college and HS FTE of up to 1.2 FTE. Students do pay mandatory fees, buy their own books, and provide their own transportation.

Students interested in Running Start may get more information from their high school counseling office or from the Running Start coordinator at their local college. Many colleges offer orientation sessions to help students and families learn more about the program. The entire catalog of courses is available to Running Start students. This includes electives, vocational, online, and advanced course work.

More at www.sbctc.edu/college/s\_runningstart.aspx

Professional-Technical Program Matrix

The SBCTC Workforce Education professional technical program matrix in this handbook is subject to change. Programs are listed by general categories and may not reflect actual program names. For example, aerospace-related programs may be listed under engineering, industrial manufacturing, and transportation.

See Professional-Technical Programs matrix.

Eligible Training Provider (ETP) list

Visit the Career Bridge website at www.careerbridge.wa.gov for the ETP list.

Centers of Excellence

Centers of Excellence focus on industries that drive the state's economy and workforce, building innovative workforce education programs. The 10 centers connect and partner with industry, economic development and community-based organizations, secondary education, and four-year colleges and universities through training, career presentations, and events.

- Aerospace & Advanced Manufacturing
- Agriculture
- Allied Health
- Careers in Education
- Construction
- Clean Energy
- Homeland Security
- Information and Computing Technology
- Global Trade & Supply Chain Management
- Marine Manufacturing and Technology

High schools are invited to connect at www.coewa.com

Applied Baccalaureate Degrees

An applied baccalaureate (bachelor's) degree builds on the education and training from a two-year technical associate degree, allowing graduates of professional-technical programs to move up the educational and professional ladder without starting over.

Degree Options

Currently, community and technical colleges offer 31 applied bachelor's degrees at 14 colleges:

- Bellevue College
- Centralia College
- Clover Park Technical College
- Columbia Basin College
- Green River Community College
- Highline College
- Lake Washington Institute of Technology
- North Seattle College
- Olympic College
- Peninsula College
- Seattle Central College
- Skagit Valley College
- South Seattle College
- Yakima Valley Community College

For a complete list of bachelor's degrees offered at community and technical colleges, visit:

<http://checkoutacollege.com/FindProgram/BachelorDegree.aspx>

Applied Baccalaureate Tuition

Tuition rates are roughly double the cost of regular community and technical college credits.

See community and technical college tuition chart.

University and College Transfer

More and more students get started on a bachelor's degree with an associate transfer degree. Students get a high quality undergraduate experience and save money by starting at a community or technical college and transferring to a Washington four-year college, branch campus, university center, or applied baccalaureate program.

Associate transfer degrees

Several options are available, so students should work closely with an advisor to choose the right degree and classes for their educational and career goals. Students should contact the four-year college or university of their choice to fully understand and meet degree requirements before transferring.

See Transfer Degree Inventory chart.

University Centers and Transfer Partnerships

Students can earn an associate transfer degree at a community or technical college and then stay on campus to complete a bachelor's degree from one of our many four-year college or university partners. Options are subject to change.

See University Centers and Transfer Partnerships chart.

High School Diploma Options

Community and technical colleges offer three ways to earn a high school diploma.

1. Attend Running Start, earn an associate degree, request HS diploma from the college
2. Age 21 years or older, earn an associate degree, request HS diploma from the college (may require financial aid)
3. Earn a HS diploma from the college through the high school completion program (may require financial aid)

I-BEST

Washington's nationally renowned Integrated Basic Education and Skills Training program (I-BEST) uses a team-teaching approach to combine adult education classes with regular, credit-bearing academic or job training classes so students get through school and into jobs faster.

Project I-DEA

With I-DEA, English language learners who face the largest language gaps are learning English quickly and in practical ways.

Like I-BEST, this project uses an integrated, team-teaching approach so students learn English in tandem with job skills and life skills. Classes are "flipped": Students learn basic words and ideas online and cement their knowledge in class with the aid of instructors and peers. Computers and 24-hour internet access allow students to learn topics that matter most to them, anytime, anywhere.

Competency-based education

Many adult education courses are competency-based; students move through adult education into pre-college (remedial) or college-level courses based on knowledge gained rather than time spent in a classroom. Students move as quickly through courses as their competencies take them.

High School Equivalency (HSE)

Many people who did not finish high school have the same knowledge and skills as those who did graduate. By taking and passing a series of HSE tests, adults can demonstrate they have acquired the same level of knowledge. Washington state uses the four-part GED® tests for its HSE test.

Most colleges and employers accept an HSE credential as being equivalent to a high school diploma. SBCTC oversees the HSE testing program for the state of Washington. Those who meet the eligibility requirements may take the HSE tests at official test centers located throughout the state. You can find a local test center through the GED® Testing Service.

High School 21+

High School 21+ is a competency-based high school diploma offered at Washington's community and technical colleges for adults who are at least 21 years old. Advisors look at transcripts and knowledge gained from life experience, and work with students to craft an educational plan to fill gaps. To receive a diploma, students must demonstrate competency in reading, writing, and math in the context of science, history, government, occupational studies, and digital literacy.

For general questions, contact Lou Sager, lsager@sbctc.edu or visit www.sbctc.edu/college/e\_abe.aspx

Sports and Recreation

Community colleges provide a variety of enrichment activities and programs, including intercollegiate athletics. Sports include basketball, baseball, cross country, golf, softball, soccer, tennis, track and field, volleyball and wrestling. Recognizing the time commitment of student-athletes, colleges may fund tuition Grants-in-Aid through scholarships of up to 40 percent of tuition costs. Visit the Northwest Athletic Conference website at www.nwacsports.org for details.

Disability Student Services

Campus disability support service offices ensure equal access to educational programs and services by providing consultation on accommodations (placement testing, classroom, assistive technology, and more) for students with disabilities who are otherwise qualified for college.

The rights of students with disabilities are different in college from what they were in high school. It is important for high school students and their parents to plan appropriately for their students' transitions to post-secondary institutions. Compared to services at public schools, the services provided by post-secondary institutions may seem minimal.

To be eligible for disability-related services, students must have a disability as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Under the ADA and Section 504, a person has a disability if he or she has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more of the major life activities (walking, standing, seeing, speaking, hearing, sitting, breathing, and taking care of oneself).

Colleges and universities are not required to provide special educational services, therapies or curriculum modifications that fundamentally alter the nature of the program or class. However, colleges and universities routinely offer some services to all students that may be beneficial to some students with disabilities, including tutoring, personal counseling, writing coaching, health and wellness programs, study skills, and time management training.

Financial Aid

Community and technical colleges award federal, state, college-based grants, and work-study based on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

The community and technical college system adopted a uniform priority financial aid deadline of March 15.

Colleges widely recommend students planning to attend fall quarter 2015 adhere to the timeline set for College Bound students (February 1).

Those planning to attend winter or spring 2016 should also apply for aid by the March 15, 2015 priority deadline.

See Admissions and Financial Aid chart.

Scholarships

A variety of scholarships may be available from each college based on financial need, program of study or major, academic merit, leadership or community service. Many colleges offer scholarships through their foundations or list scholarships at their websites.

Most deadlines for fall 2015 scholarships for graduating high school seniors offered by community and technical college foundations will be in February, March, and April 2015.

Tuition Waivers

Certain populations are eligible for full or partial reduction of tuition. Tuition waivers vary by campus, so check with college registration offices.

Some examples: Oregon border county residents, military veterans, senior citizens, higher education employees, active duty military/Washington National Guard, children of deceased or disabled law enforcement officers and firefighters, families of fallen soldiers and families of disabled veterans.

Washington Student Achievement Council

Minimum Freshman Admission Requirements to Public Baccalaureate Institutions

<http://www.wsac.wa.gov/sites/default/files/MCAS-Overview-StudentsParents.pdf>

Goals of the minimum freshman admission requirements are to ensure that:

- Freshmen who enroll at state public baccalaureate institutions are ready to succeed academically and earn baccalaureate degrees.
- The amount of college transitional study (remedial) instruction required for recent high school graduates is minimized
- Students and families understand that completion of a rigorous curriculum in high school is critical for success in college
- Meeting these minimum requirements does not guarantee admission to a public baccalaureate institution

For students entering college or university Summer or Fall 2012

College Academic Distribution Requirement (CADR) Coursework

Students are encouraged to take a minimum of three credits of CADR courses each year of high school, including senior year.

Students who take college-level coursework and complete 5 quarter credits or 3 semester credits, will have earned the equivalent of one CADR credit. In addition, pre-college courses in English and math may be equivalent to CADR courses, provided they are designed to meet the same learning outcomes as the high school courses for which they substitute.

Students may meet high school requirements with courses taken in middle school, provided the courses are part of a sequence which is successfully continued in high school, or the courses are included on the high school transcript as high school-level courses.

Previous minimum college admissions standards used the term 'year' to designate completion of what is now referred to as 'one credit' of high school coursework. The use of 'credit' recognizes that school districts may use alternative or block scheduling that permits students to earn a full credit in a given subject area in less than an academic year.

English – 4 credits including 3 credits of college preparatory composition or literature. One credit may be satisfied by courses in drama as literature, public speaking, debate, journalistic writing, business English, English as a Second Language, or Learning Support English. Passing the state mandated high school assessment in Reading is equivalent to earning the first 2 CADR credits of high school English.

Mathematics – 3 credits: Algebra I, geometry, and Algebra II (intermediate algebra), or Integrated Math I, II, and III. Passing the state mandated high school assessment in math is equivalent to earning the first 2 CADR credits of high school math (Algebra I & Geometry or Integrated Math I and II).

Note: Successful completion of math through pre-calculus meets the requirement for 3 credits of math and the senior-year math requirement (below).

Senior Year Math-Based Quantitative Course: During the senior year of high school, students must earn a credit in a math-based quantitative course. This requirement may be met through enrollment in one of the three required math courses listed above; or by completing a math-based quantitative course like statistics, applied math, or appropriate career and technical courses; or by completing an algebra-based science course taken during the senior year that would satisfy this requirement and part of the science requirement below.

Note: The senior-year math requirement does not mean a 4th credit of math is required, nor does it require a higher level of math; the intent is for seniors to take meaningful math.

Exception: Completion of higher-level math prior to the senior year exempts students from the senior-year quantitative course requirement (e.g., pre-calculus, math analysis, or calculus).

Science – 2 credits of laboratory science are required for admission to public baccalaureate institutions beginning summer of 2010. One credit must be in an algebra-based science course as determined by the school district. One credit must be in biology, chemistry, or physics (this course may also meet the algebra-based requirement). Principles of technology courses taught in Washington High Schools may satisfy the laboratory science requirement.

Note: Western Washington University specifies that one credit must be an algebra-based chemistry or physics course.

World Languages – 2 credits must be earned in the same World Language, Native American language, or American Sign Language. Schools may award credit based on a district approved competency assessment consistent with the State Board of Education policy and American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) Proficiency Guidelines.

Note: A World Language course taken in middle school may satisfy one credit of the requirement if the second year level course is completed in high school grades 9-12.

Social Science – 3 credits of history or other social science (e.g. anthropology, contemporary world problems, economics, geography, government, political science, psychology).

Arts – 1 credit of fine, visual, or performing arts - or 1 additional credit in other CADR academic subject areas as defined above. Acceptable coursework in the fine, visual, or performing arts includes art appreciation, band, ceramics, choir, dance, dramatics performance and production, drawing, fiber arts, graphic arts, metal design, music appreciation, music theory, orchestra, painting, photography, print making, or sculpture.

Note: The University of Washington and Western Washington University specify one-half credit in fine, visual or performing arts. The other half may be in the arts or in an academic elective.

Students should consult with their local high school to obtain complete information about minimum college admission standards, and to be aware of which courses at their high school meet CADR guidelines, as determined by the local school district.

Program Intent

College/University Transfer: 36%
Professional-technical: 25%

Admission Requirements and Criteria

1. Apply to Highline
Admission to Highline is a one-time process; re-applying is not necessary (and highly discouraged). Our online application process is for admission only (do not use it to update information). All students apply; including transfer students.
2. Plan Ahead for Expenses
Apply for financial aid at www.fafsa.gov with college code #003781. Next steps, deadlines, the HCC Data Sheet and information are available on the Financial Aid website.
3. Pay the Application Fee
Planning to take the COMPASS/MyMathTest? Qualify for a discounted rate by paying your application fee first. The application fee (currently $17) is non-refundable; allow two business days for your student record to reflect your payment. High School Programs participants pay on-site. All others can pay online, in-person, or by mail to Cashiering. The application fee is reviewed annually and may change. The amount due is the application fee rate that is current at the time payment is being made.

4. Assess your Starting Point
Placement tests assess your current reading, writing and math levels. For more information about placement, see <https://placement.highline.edu>. Take the COMPASS and/or MyMathTest at the Placement & Testing Center. Bring your receipt and a photo ID. No appointment is necessary and you do not have to take all subjects in one sitting. If you do, allow yourself 2 hours. All new students are expected to take placement tests other than in a few very specific cases. Brush-up workshops are available!
5. Get oriented
All new Highline students who have not previously attended a college will be required to participate in a New Student Orientation in-person or online. For details visit Educational Planning.
6. Make a Plan
EPAC Advisors are available on a drop-in basis or by e-advising to support you with educational planning and course selection. Bring college transcripts if applicable. If you have previous college coursework that is related to your program of study, submit official transcripts to Registration for evaluation.

Designed for Student Success

The new Health Sciences and Student Resources Building enhances learning opportunities at North.

The building houses:

- labs with the latest in teaching tools, including a life-size digital cadaver – the only one at a two-year college in Washington state.
- a hospital environment, complete with the most advanced patient simulators
- a Learning Center to make it easy for students to get help with their studies – and includes computer support, too.

New Student Initiatives

Students completed a stunning outdoor mural on campus in 2014. The design was the winning entry in an international competition. A new mural project is planned for next spring.

Working with the City of Seattle, students led the effort to help create a P-Patch for the community. Because of their leadership, the college received a Silver rating from a national higher education organization for innovation and best practices in sustainability.

For 2014-15, students launched the “Year of Learning Initiative” to continue shaping the college’s community and sustainability activities.

Sports and Recreation

Raider Athletics has a rich tradition of success and accomplishment, dating back to the program's inaugural season in 1968-69, when the college first participated in men's basketball. Raiders teams have won conference championships in tennis ('75), softball ('82), and soccer ('92). Additionally, Raiders teams have earned numerous opportunities to compete in post-season playoffs. Recent successes on the field and on the court placed four Raiders teams in the playoffs in 2009-10. In addition, the softball team has won four consecutive division titles (2007-2010). The volleyball and soccer teams have both qualified for the playoffs in five of the last six years. The baseball team in 2008 earned its first post-season berth since 1982. The men's basketball team finished in second place at the 2011 and 2005 NWAACC tournaments, and placed third at the 2007 tournament.

Individually, many Raider athletes have been recognized over the years for their contributions to team success, earning divisional all-star honors. Seven Raiders have been selected as the divisional Most Valuable Players in their respective sports throughout the past six years.

Student Life

Pierce offers a variety of clubs and activities to suit many interests. In addition, Pierce has chapters of Phi Theta Kappa, the national honors society for two-year colleges, at both main campuses.

The Fort Steilacoom campus also features the 58-seat Science Dome, which has become the only digital planetarium of its kind in the South Puget Sound region. The Science Dome offers live astronomy presentations, full dome videos on a 38-foot domed screen, interactive children's shows, K-12 field trip, Pierce College class instruction, special events and more.

American Honors at Pierce College

Pierce College offers American Honors, a competitive community college honors program that not only challenges students academically, but it also provides them with the tools and one-to-one support to help students succeed in academics – and in life.

American Honors program graduates emerge as independent thinkers and effective leaders, stepping into successful careers or continuing onto top-tier four-year colleges and universities across the country.

Supportive advisors work with students to establish a transfer strategy from day one. A growing network with some of the nation's top four-year universities actively recruits program graduates and, in some cases, guarantees admission. This honors education at Pierce College will prepare students for the rigor of a four-year college.

Qualified applicants who have met the prerequisites for the allied health program of their choice are considered of equal merit and equally qualified to be accepted into a limited enrollment program. However, if the number of qualified applicants exceeds the number of available spaces in a program, admission will be competitive and based on an estimate of the student's potential to succeed. Students applying to an allied health program must attend an allied health information session prior to submitting a supplemental application for a program. The information sessions will describe the requirements of the programs, the application processes, the selection criteria and the occupation under consideration. Application materials are available on the website, www.wvc.edu. The schedule of information sessions is available in the allied health office and on the college website.

Additional Information

Gonzaga has two academic programs each with additional requirements:

NURSING: Gonzaga's Nursing Program accepts first-year applications only. Applicants interested in the Nursing Program must choose "Nursing" on their application to be considered. Students not admitted into the Nursing Program through the application process will not be permitted to change their major to nursing.

ENGINEERING: Applicants interested in pursuing any of the majors in the School of Engineering and Applied Science as a first-year student should be ready for College Calculus and (with the exception of computer science applicants) should have completed Physics in high school. Students not meeting these criteria are encouraged to consider majors outside the School.

Academic Year 2014-15

Gonzaga is privileged to host the 2014 Opus Prize in October, an event that will inspire our campus and community with the work of some of the world's leading faith-based humanitarians. The Opus Prize is an annual, million-dollar gift awarded to an individual or organization anywhere in the world whose faith-based, entrepreneurial leadership helps people in need transform their lives.

We are also very excited by the promise the next five years at Gonzaga University holds. In the fall of 2015, Gonzaga will open the new Hemmingson University Center, a $60 million center for which we are seeking LEED Gold Certification. More than a beautiful new building, the Hemmingson Center is an opportunity for Gonzaga to transform the delivery of a contemporary Jesuit education, one that is relevant and rigorous. The beautiful facility will house student clubs and organizations, Gonzaga Student Body Association, dining facilities, University Ministry, Unity Multicultural Education Center, the Center for Global Engagement, and much more.

GU will follow the opening of the Hemmingson Center with plans to construct a new research facility, build an addition to our School of Engineering and Applied Science, and construct a $25 million performing arts center thanks to a gift from Spokane philanthropist Myrtle Woldson.

Gonzaga Western Washington Regional Representative

Gonzaga University now has admission representation in Western Washington. Ms. Claire Silva, Associate Director of Admission, will represent Gonzaga University in the greater Seattle, Tacoma and Olympia areas. Given the level of interest in western Washington for GU, Gonzaga sought to take a more proactive approach.

Claire will be available for college information nights, meeting with students, high school visits, and fairs. Claire can be reached at silva@gonzaga.edu and at 509-313-6286.

Mission

Since 1890, Whitworth has held fast to its founding mission to provide "an education of mind and heart" through rigorous intellectual inquiry guided by dedicated Christian scholars. Consistently ranked as one of the top 10 regional universities in the West, Whitworth University offers more than 100 undergraduate and graduate degree programs built on a strong liberal arts foundation.

The World is our Classroom

- Our unique 4-1-4 academic calendar makes it possible for our faculty to lead dozens of semester-long and Jan-term study-abroad programs around the world every year. More than 45 percent of our 2014 graduates studied abroad while at Whitworth.
- Whitworth's Office of Service Learning and Community Engagement develops partnerships that enable our students to use what they are learning in the classroom to help community and non-profit organizations serve the needs of the community. Nearly 100 percent of Whitworth students engage in service learning before they graduate.
- Faculty encourage students to partner with them in research and scholarship projects. The Robinson Science Center opened in 2011, providing state of the art laboratory space and technology for faculty-student research.

Active Student Body

- Our nationally recognized Student Life program engages hundreds of students in leadership positions in student government, residence life, and Intercultural Student Center.
- There are more than 40 student clubs that are led by students – ranging from the Student Investment Group and Fellowship of Christian Athletes to the Latino Student Union and the Ultimate Frisbee Club.
- Whitworth's award-winning music and theatre programs perform regularly on campus but also tour around the world.
- Our Forensics (speech and debate) and Ethics Bowl teams have won national championships in the last few years.

Championship Athletics

Whitworth's student athletes put academics first but also win on the field of competition. Competing in the NCAA Division III, Whitworth has won the award for the best overall athletic program in the Northwest Conference for seven years in a row and has boasted a number of Academic All-Americans every year.
